LIBRARY CIRCULATING PRIVILEGES

Circulating privileges in the Library are available to members who are non-residents of the vicinity of New York. All applications for loan of books must be addressed to the American Alpine Club, 140 East 46th Street, New York City, attention of Miss Helen I. Buck, Librarian.

In view of the fact that the European war will probably lessen the opportunity of climbing in the Alps, Mr. Bradford Washburn has kindly offered to furnish at cost to any member of the American Alpine Club prints of the National Geographic Alaskan photographs, which would be useful to climbers contemplating expeditions in that territory. Nearly 4000 negatives are available, covering approaches to most of the big unclimbed Alaskan peaks. Apply to Mr. Washburn at New England Museum of Natural History, 234 Berkeley St., Boston, Mass.

WYOMING ROCKIES

Teton Range

Weather and seasonal conditions were both good during 1939, and a large number of ascents (163) were reported to the Park Naturalist at Jenny Lake. All the major peaks except Buck Mountain were climbed at least twice, the Grand Teton retaining its popularity with sixty ascents by various routes. The following are noteworthy, three being by new routes:

Grand Teton.—1. New route on N. face, via a couloir left of the head of Teton Glacier, thence to the E. ridge. J. Hossack and G. McGowan.

2. Ascent of E. ridge, involving crossing of the first gendarme rather than a traverse to its right or left. N. Dyrenfurth, E. N. Ohl.

3. A fast round trip, from base to summit and return in 5 hours, 22 minutes. J. Hawkes, J. Holyoke.

Mt. Moran.—1. New route on N. ridge, from Moran Canyon to the lower summit. P. Petzoldt, W. Ringler.

2. New route on N. face of N. E. ridge to a point just below the lower summit. E. Clark and D. Grant.
